THE FOURTH

ON THE COMSTOCK.

Grand Military Display.

GENERAL POWNING'S ORATION

The Fourth of July was celebrated in grand style in Virginia City. All the military companies in western Nevada joined in the parade. The Reno Guard, fifty strong; the Carson Guard, forty men; the Nationals of Virginia, numbering sixty men; the Emmetts of Virginia City, with ninety-three men in line, and Battery A, also of Virginia City, were in line, and the procession was the grandest seen on the Comstock for many years.The literary exercises were held at Piper's Opera House, which was handsomely decorated. There was music by the band and singing by the choir, and an introductory address by John Mann, President of the Day, after which General O. C. Powning was introduced, and delivered the following

ORATION.

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen:— The echoes of the old bell are still resounding, and the stories they tell are more precious than ever, proclaiming liberty throughout the land, to all the inhabitants thereof, with the Cinderella more beautiful in the reality than she was in the old classical legend or [in the modern story. They recall the landing of the Pilgrims; the trials and struggles and sufferings for years and years, of the colonists, before they dreamed of emancipating themselves from kingly rule, and of resolving on independence for the liberty they craved. The thought went from a whisper to an open word, from an open word to a shout, from a shout to a battle, from the battle to the Republic! And thus was inaugurated civil, political and religious liberty. Then was given to us and ours the sole guardianship of our liberties—the most sacred trust ever bequeathed to mortals.But it demanded years of war and hardships before the emphatic declaration that the American people are, and of right ought to be, an independent nation, was acknowledged, or the immortal doctrines that all men are created equal in rights and that no Government has any right to be, except by consent of the governed, were established as everlasting truths.No wonder that men pledged each other their lives, their fortunes, their sacred honor. No wonder that the tyranny of George III and the insolence of Lord North were resented. No wonder that Colonel Prescott shouted out at Bunker Hill, "Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes!" No wonder that Allen demanded that Ticonderoga be surrendered to him "in the name of the Great Jehovah and the Continental Congress!" that Sergeant Jasper should spring over the wall at Monteris and amidst a heavy fire secure the flag, tie it to a pole, and set it up again on the ramparts. Aye, that flag, copied from the blue sky and bright stars above us, beautiful emblem of our age, integrity and steadfastness, every stripe a record of some great deed, every star a symbol of better things yet to come; every stripe an edict to foreign nations to respect a "Government of the people, by the people and for the people," every star a beacon light to ours abroad; every stripe a warning to avoid the dangers which beset ancient Rome, Greece and Egypt, every star a consciousness of belonging to one great Republic which secures our unity; every stripe a prohibitory notice to foreign paupers and fugitives from justice, every star a tribute to native and alien born citizens who love their country; every stripe a barrier to ignorance and superstition, every star a protection for education and good morals; every stripe a red flag to anarchists and socialists, every star a plea for law and order; every stripe a protest against fanatical or kingly rule, every star a guarantee that on the high seas or on the land an American is an American; and all the stars and all the stripes a rainbow of perpetual promise to each and every one of us, and an everlasting monument of "Liberty Enlightening the World."No wonder that every patriot must fight or be enslaved; that the Hessians must be defeated; that Capt. Hale should regret that he had "but one life" to lose for his country; that the Delaware must be crossed so that the victory at Trenton might be won. Who can imagine the suffering at Valley Forge, and who can paint the triumph of the surrender of Cornwallis?In 1793 the final treaty of peace was signed and after receiving the thanks of Congress for the able and faithful manner in which he had discharged the task intrusted to him, George Washington, "first

RENO, NEVADA, JULY 7, 1891. TUESDAY.

McEWEN ON NEVADA.

Arthur McEwen, who served an apprenticeship years ago on Nevada newspapers, spent some days in Reno last week and his letter to the many papers for which he writes is dated Reno, and treats of Nevada. He says the sagebrushers have played in hard luck. California has snatched the life-blood of her ever since the first ounce of silver was produced on the Comstock. The neighbors of San Francisco have drawn away her rich men with their fortunes. The desert in large part is composed of rich land that needs but water (which the Government or private capital could supply) to make it as productive as any land in the world. What do you think of 60 barrels of wheat to the acre, what the first prize at the New Orleans Fair? That wheat was raised on irrigated land at Lovelock. Nevada potatoes are the best in the country. No apple-like here are produced on the coast. Strawberries, peaches, cherries and other fruit, all excellent, are grown here. The four-acre ranch of Mr. Riley within two miles of Reno, up in a well, and the surrounding valley, produces fruits and berries which will be supplied the local market, and it is said from a crop of $3,000 a year. "Reno," says Mr. McEwen, "is as distinctively Nevada as any mining camp that ever boomed and died in the sagebrush. Its natural situation, on the banks of the crystal, warm river Truckee, at the foot of the snow-peaked Sierra, is singularly beautiful. No town of the same population in California can show more tasteful homes, better schools, finer churches, bricker business men or handsome stores. Its social life is peculiarly charming. Nobody is very rich and nobody is very poor. There is, therefore, a democracy of feeling not often observed in communities where visiting and extraneous people occupy a good share of the attention of the women. When evening comes the streets are alive with trim vehicles occupied by well-dressed young men and fresh-colored girls. There are musical societies, literary associations and a lawn tennis club. The State University is here and there are two summer resorts for young ladies. The town is growing and it is the centre of an agricultural area embracing about 20,000 acres. Three railroads have their depots here.

Can you believe in a Nevada picture such as this? Yet it is a true one—just as true as the present action is false that the population of the Silver State is made up of broken-down miners, dejected desperados and gamblers, a few millionaires and a mass of paupers, given to hard drink."

RAILROAD RUMORS.

The rumor spread is augmented by railroad rumors. The Salt Lake Tribune states, on good authority, that the Sierra Valley extension of the Rio Grande Western is a California line, and that the Santa Fe is backing it. The line may go through Beckwithe Pass and then again it may go further South.

The Denver Southern line is that the Denver and Rio Grande Western is backed this way from a point beyond Provo, Utah. The objective point of the new extension is to connect the mining district of Tinian, which is well in the front of the Western extension to the Pacific Ocean. The Denver and Rio Grande Western is owned almost solely by Pullman and Dodge, who managed and built about all of the Denver and Rio Grande system. They are great pushers as natural builders. They would build a railroad to the moon if they could get a cent to fund it with. The Santa Fe water trusts that they are in a good financial condition and that they have formed a contract with Grand Junction and Glenwood Springs with the Colorado Midland which gives them a more direct route to Denver and the East than by the original Marshall Pass of the Rocky Mountains. This part of the system has been widened to the standard gauge, and it is said that the Rock Island is backing the road.

The Examiner reveals activity in the office of the San Joaquin Valley Railroad Company in San Francisco and the President of the Company says he is preparing for a busy season of railroad construction. The new road in the San Joaquin Valley will be built from Fresno northeast 110 miles into the Sierra Nevada Mountains. Ground was broken for the road July 4th, and a contract for the first section has been let and will complete the road to the San Joaquin river twenty-five miles from Fresno. A bridge will be built across the river and the road will then be pushed up into the mountains, and completed by January 1st, 1892. The opinion prevails among business men that some one of the Eastern roads is trying to effect an entrance to California.

Argument is made that water suit to abate a nuisance by removing certain dams in the Humboldt river near Brownsville was refused in Department 5 of the Superior Court, San Francisco, yesterday before Judge Fitzgerald of the District Court of Nevada.

ANOTHER CYCLONE.

Great Damage Done to Property in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Special to the Journal.

BATON ROUGE, La., July 6.—A cyclone passed over the lower portion of this town this morning, unroofing houses, tearing up immense trees and carrying pieces of wreck through the air for many blocks. The boulevard is littered with trees that were torn up by the wind and pieces of house tops and other timbers. The penitentiary walls were blown down and ten persons killed and thirty wounded. A factory building was demolished and the hospital and penitentiary are a mass of ruins. The steamship, Smoky City, was blown to pieces, there being nothing left but the hull. Several of the crew were killed.

In this city no one was killed, though several persons were seriously injured. The following is a list of those killed in the penitentiary: Whites—Isaac McClelland, J. A. Waggoner, Fred Oage, James Van Metter, John Gilson and William Willow; colored—Nathan Chaney, Henry Calhoun, Beauregard Harden and Edward Buckner. Of the thirty-five injured, five received dangerous wounds.

The convicts were at work in the jeans pants factory, in the third story of the north wing, when the storm struck the building and entirely demolished the second and third stories. There were others in the hospital in the second story and it is a miracle that any escaped with their lives. In addition, the north wing cell building was unroofed and partially destroyed. The women's ward was also unroofed. It is impossible to form any estimate of the damage to buildings, as all the property is more or less insured. In the city fifty houses at least are unroofed or destroyed.

There were forty prisoners at work in a pants factory at the time of the crash, and six were killed and twenty-two wounded and horribly crushed. On the second story or central floor was a hospital, where twenty sick prisoners lay, undergoing medical treatment. Of these four were killed and fourteen seriously, if not fatally, injured. A fire alarm was sounded and the entire fire department summoned. Together with citizens and prison officials, aided by unjaded prisoners, they worked vigorously for the rescue of the unfortunates.

The storm was attended by a most violent rain in which the rescuers worked and rolled for several hours or until both living and dead were extricated from the ruins. Thirty-six in all were wounded and of this number six or more will die.

The trees on many streets were uprooted. A visit to the Capitol and other State buildings showed them to be unharmed by the winds as was also the business portion of the town. The southern portion of the city, styled as "catfish town," suffered great loss and damage of property. In this section several persons were seriously hurt and bruised by flying timbers from falling houses and fences.

The extent of the damage throughout the city cannot be accurately estimated at this time, but it can be said that it is the greatest loss the town has ever sustained, whether from cyclone or fire.

The storm did not make a straight sweep through the city but would strike the ground and bound forward like a bounding ball and pass over several houses at a time. The trunks of large oaks were taken off like pipe stems. So sudden was the storm that a number of vehicles were caught and wrecked in the streets. A number of very narrow escapes are reported.

Two Men Killed by Indians. Special to the Journal.

BAKERSFIELD, July 6.—On July 3d, Constables John Powers and Sam Gann, with M. McCoy, a livery man of Lemore, went out in the Mojave desert near Coyote duties to arrest some Indians charged with driving a hay stack. A fight ensued, and Powers and McCoy were killed; also two Indians and two horses. Gann's mustache was shot off, but he managed to get Powers' horse, his own having been killed, and rode to the south fork of Kern river for help. Twelve men went back with him. The bodies of the two Indians had been buried in the sand. Powers' throat was cut from ear to ear, and the flesh was torn from McCoy's face in shreds. Just at dusk the Indians, who were in ambush, opened fire on the party. Powers was a single man; McCoy leaves a wife and six children. The remains were taken to Weldon. Kiowa, the ringleader of the Indians, is a bad character. He and his two sons killed an Indian not long ago. He had a personal grudge against Powers. The posse now in pursuit number thirty men. The Indians are well mounted and armed and it is feared more blood will be shed. There were six Indians in the first party, but perhaps one hundred more in the vicinity and several hundred between there and Inyo county.

Two Men to be Executed To-day. Special to the Journal.

SINO SING, July 6.—Several witnesses arrived this evening and are at the prison. Father Gradian, who is coming home, said he would not be back to-night. One of the witnesses stated definitely that the execution would not take place before 2 o'clock in the morning. There are three or four witnesses to arrive, but they are expected by late train. Father Creeden and assistant Father Hogan will accompany Wood and Slocum to the execution chamber. Deputy Attorney General Hogan arrived this evening with the death warrants. Two prisoners entered the prison about 9:30 p. m.

Bank Examiner Drew

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The correspondence relative to the dismissal of Bank Examiner Drew was made public to-day. June 29 Comptroller Lacey wrote to Drew, calling his attention to the fact that in the report of January 24 as to the condition of the Keystone Bank Drew had omitted completely to mention the indebtedness of the bank to the clearing house of $544,851 for which notes and bills amounting to $129,308 were pledged as security. Drew, under date of June 30, responded that his failure to mention this amount was clearly an accident, and as he did not include it in the regular report intended to make it the subject of special note. The correspondence also touches on other points and ends with the letter to Drew from Comptroller Lacey under date of July 2nd informing the Examiner that so important an omission after 15 days' examination of a bank is not consistent with the confidence which must be reposed by the Department in reports of Examiners, and calling for Drew's resignation. Bank Examiner Shepard of Pittsburgh and Bank Examiner Betts of Cincinnati will conduct the affairs of the Philadelphia office until Drew's successor is appointed.

A Collision at Sea. Special to the Journal.

LONDON, July 6.—The steamer Kinloch has lashed at Gravesend with a part of the crew of the sunken steamer Dunholme, bound from Middleborough to Rio Janeiro. The Dunholme was sunk at 2 o'clock in the morning, two minutes after the collision with the Kinloch. Seventeen of the persons on board at the time of the collision are missing. The captain, mate, two sailors and three firemen are saved. They state that the Dunholme was struck by the Kinloch at 2.50 a. m. in a thick fog. There was no time to lower the boats. The Kinloch assisted as far as possible.

A Fast Pacing Team. Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—The Evening Post says that at the Bay District track Saturday in the presence of a member, the well known horseman, Captain Milton Griffiths of this city, speeded his team of four half a mile in the remarkable time of 1:02 1/2, the quarter being made in 39 seconds. At present the double team record for a mile is 2:13, which was scored by Belle Hamlin and Juvina last year.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLISLE, Nauright, N. J.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

PRICE OF DAILY JOURNAL, FIFTEEN CENTS PER WEEK Delivered by Carrier, TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1891

BREVITIES

Bar silver 100%. Wm. Pinniger left Sunday night for San Francisco. Harry Davis has returned from Lake Tahoe. Judge Bigelow returned from San Francisco Sunday. Rev. T. E. Sisson of Truckee arrived in town yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Foulks of Verdi arrived in Reno yesterday. Hon. William Thompson came up from Franktown to spend the Fourth. S. Stanaway of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express returned Sunday from California. John Murray, special agent of the Equitable Life Assurance Co. of New York, is in Reno. County Clerk Dunn of Humboldt county passed through yesterday homeward bound from San Francisco. Sam Hodgkinson is still at the old stand prepared to fill prescriptions and everything else in his line. M. Siegel of Lowery & Co., San Francisco, passed through yesterday on his way to Winnemucca. Richard Smith, agent for Wells, Fargo & Co., left last night for Salt Lake. He will be gone about two weeks. S. C. Brown, Opera House block, is prepared to do all kinds of painting and decorating. See advertisement in another column. The Lyon County Times has entered upon its thirty-fifth volume. It labors faithfully and energetically for the interests of its section of Nevada. J. P. Sweeney's stable and Mrs. Fryer's residence at Carson were burned last Saturday. The house was insured for $1,200 and the stable for $300. Thirty or forty Comstockers had a picnic at Steamboat Springs yesterday. They traveled in private conveyances and had a grand time in the shaded grounds near the springs. The Journal is indebted to Judge Webster for some delicious trout caught in Pyramid lake and preserved by a formula which he should make public so that other fishermen could use it. Miller & Lux have shipped forty more carloads of cattle from Merced, California, to their stock range in Northwestern Humboldt, to which they have shipped about 3,000 head of stock cattle this Spring. A patriotic sheep herder footed it from Mount Rose to Reno—about twenty miles—to celebrate the Fourth of July, but arrived just 24 hours too late. He lost his reckoning and thought the 5th was the 4th, and got to town Sunday morning. The Comstock militia promises to attend the State Fair in force. The Eumetis say they will turn out a hundred strong and the Nationals will send out at least sixty men to the fair. The Reno boys were royally entertained by the Nationals and no doubt will reciprocate when the Virginia boys come to Reno. The Russell Dramatic Company which has been entertaining the people of Carson and Virginia for nearly two weeks will appear at McKinnis's Opera House this evening. The papers say it is an excellent company, and the "Night Shift" which will be played this evening is pronounced one of the best. It is a fine act comedy and drew crowded houses in Virginia and Carson. The Fourth of July Committee met last evening and audited all bills that have been presented and will pay the same upon the claimants calling at O. A. Thorstons. Any person having any bill against said Committee will present the same to O. A. Thorstons at once or forever hold his peace. An itemized statement of all receipts and expenditures will be published during the week. While gold is by no means plenty silver is comparatively scarce than gold. There is general complaint that there is not sufficient silver in circulation for ordinary business purposes, though half-dollars and quarter-dollars can be had free of transportation in exchange for gold or paper money from any of the Government Sub-Treasuries. It is strange that a silver-producing State with a United States Mint, should have less silver than gold in circulation among its people. The Journal has learned that the suit of the State against the Reno Reduction Works, involving the right to the use of the waters diverted from the Truckee by the dam at the works, was dismissed yesterday in the Supreme Court upon motion of the Attorney General. This will doubtless result in the rebuilding of the works which will not only benefit Reno, but miners along the Central Pacific and Carson & Colorado Railroads. About 11 o'clock Sunday a man named Gts Benois was struck on the head by Louis Ortiz, so he says, and knocked senseless. Officer Campbell arrested Ortiz and locked him up and Benois was taken to the hospital, where Dr. Lewis dressed his wounds. The officers think he was cut with a knife but Dr. Lewis is of the opinion that he was struck with a club as his skull is fractured. The lobe of his left ear is also cut in two laterally.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.

Bills Allowed and Other Business Transacted Yesterday. The Board met yesterday pursuant to adjournment. Present—T. K. Hymers (Chairman), W. P. McLaughlin, W. H. Pierson, Commissioners, T. V. Julien, District Attorney; W. H. Laughlin, Sheriff; O. H. Perry, Clerk. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. A petition to open an alley on California street, in block 8, was denied because no such street appears on the official map of the town of Reno. The following bills were allowed: O. H. As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle.

RENO'S PATRIOTISM. Parade. Games and a Day of General Amusement. The usual Fourth of July salute of one hundred guns broke the early morning naps of our town's people on Saturday morning. Soon after little boys and girls appeared on the street in holiday attire, followed later on by the more elderly and sedate residents who had turned out for the children's sake. While the procession was not as large as many have seen in Reno, it was creditable considering the circumstances, and was witnessed by a large crowd of people, who had gathered in from neighboring towns and the country. S. A. Hamlin as Marshal conducted the march in a very creditable manner through the several streets, and finally dismissed it at the Opera House. The Car of State and Floral Car were very handsome, and the ladies who superintended and assisted in arranging and decorating them received much praise. The steamer was covered with flags and bunting and with the handsome pair of blacks was a feature. A number of business houses were represented in the line, and J. F. Atken turned out in force. The exercises at the theater were as good as any ever held in Reno, and were attended by a large crowd. The games were carried out as fully as possible and a number of little folk and some older ones were pleased to carry off cash prizes. The ball in the evening was a success, and enjoyed by many of our young people. Taking the whole day it was quite a success, and gave very general satisfaction, many of our business men saying that it had been one of the best Fourth of July, judging from a business standpoint, that Reno had had for years. Engineer Cobb and Fireman Porter of the Central Pacific yard engine exhibited ability in the decorative art, as well as patriotism on the Fourth of July. The locomotive was covered with bunting and flags tastefully arranged and while it could not leave the iron track and participate in the parade, it proceeded up the track to a point opposite the Opera House where the exercises took place, and added its full share to the gay scene. There were no serious fights, fires or accidents, and the day passed off quite pleasantly for all. When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria. On the evening of the Fourth a rocket caught in the awning of a window in the upper story of the Powe building on Virginia street, causing quite a blaze for a few minutes. The fire bell rang out on alarm and the yard engine hoarsely but loudly shrieked fire, fire, and in a few minutes Virginia street was densely thronged with people, but the awning was torn down promptly, and when the steamer arrived in front of the building there was no occasion for turning on the hose. The Ravenna Horror. Special to the Journal. ALLIANCE, O., July 6.—The horrible wreck at Ravenna Friday is still the topic of conversation. The inquest was resumed this morning but nothing of importance was learned to date. Considerable excitement was occasioned by the report that Conductor Boynton's report of tickets showed that twelve people were yet unaccounted for. Though some may have left without making themselves known, Conductor Boynton is firmly of the belief that others were entirely consumed in the fire and that his son, who was the negligent fireman who is supposed to have been the cause of the wreck, was one of the victims. The inquest may develop some sensational facts. Those who visited the wreck Friday noticed pieces of burned flesh lying about the ruins too small to be identified as belonging to any part of the human body. An Official Announcement. Special to the Journal. WASHINGTON, July 6.—President Harrison to-night authorized the following official announcement on the death of ex-Vice President Hamlin: "To the people of the United States: The President with profound feeling of sorrow announces the death of Hannibal Hamlin, at one time Vice President of the United States, who died at Bangor, Maine, Saturday, July 4th. Few men in this country have filled more important and more distinguished public positions than Mr. Hamlin, and in recognition of his many eminent and varied services, and as expression of great respect and reverence felt for his memory, it is ordered that the National flag shall be displayed at half-mast upon public buildings of the United States on the day of his funeral."

many, one—in accord with the grand idea of the Declaration. Such a document! It is the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, and "By the Eternal," every friend of independence, of National unity, of free government, of free speech, of free thought, will see to it that "its administration in every department may be stamped in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen," retired to his home at Mt. Vernon.

If the Declaration of Independence of 1776 was an inspiration, the Constitution of 1787 was a marvelous piece of statesmanship, and although it has been said by a noted French Cardinal that the men impossible to replace are yet unborn, we can fully realize the greatness of Alexander Hamilton, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, and the others, who could prepare such an instrument and seal it with wisdom and virtue—that, in fact, the happiness of the people of these States, under the auspices of liberty, may be made complete, by so careful a preservation, and so prudent a use of this blessing, as will acquire to them the glory of recommending it to the applause, the affection and adoption of every nation which is yet a stranger to it.

Our forefathers donated us an inestimable heritage, and the star spangled banner proudly waves from every staff, and should do so from every school house, from the magnificent lakes of the North, where the tall pines of Michigan and Wisconsin rival the cedars of Lebanon and the oaks of Bashan, to the sunny strands of the Mexican Gulf, where the air is redolent of the odor of magnolias, and fragrant with the perfume of a thousand flowers; from the rock-bound coast and rugged hills of New England to the placid and tranquil waters of the calm Pacific—a land embracing every variety of climate, and a soil capable of producing every necessary article for the preservation and comfort of animal and human life; a land rich in minerals, from beds of coal to mines of precious Comstock gold and silver; streams of oil for burning; gas that may be used fresh from natural springs; salt, that needs but the sun's rays to make it palatable; beds of soda, that are as so much dust; 65,000,000 persons are now attached to it by ties of home and love and the first 100-000,000 are clearly in sight; thirteen States have increased to forty-four; the magnificent cities are connected by a network of railways, telegraphs, telephones, navigable rivers and canals, which bind one and all; we have made a commerce and system of manufactures before which the fabled wealth of all the ancients only make comparisons odious; our Government credit has forced the money sharks to accept two per cent. per annum; none so great in science, with embryo Edisons innumerable; we have advanced steadily in art, and in literature boast a list of famous names. In our agricultural, industrial and commercial capacity, in our extent of physical resources, in political development, notwithstanding corruptions and abuses, in the settlement and improvement of our National domain, and in the growth of religion, education, culture, patriotism and National sentiment there is every reason to look forward with courage and hope, and to believe that by the time the country rounds the second century of its existence as a free Republic it will take its place unchallenged at the head of the nations of the world.

The ancients believed in an Arcadian realm towards which those happy mortals favored of the gods might sail on Summer seas; and where the sunset kissed the ocean waves they saw its golden strand.
This is the land, the land of the free and the home of the brave; the centuries have given it to the human race; have given it that on its peaceful shores earth's toiling millions might find rest and hope; have given it that those enslaved in other climes may here be free; have given it for the upbuilding and perpetuation of a Government in which all men are equal before the law, and entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; have given it that its sheltering valleys may be dotted with pleasant homes and its eternal hills glorify the goodness of Almighty God.

Napoleon once said to his soldiers:
"From the heights of yonder pyramids, forty centuries look down upon you." My fellow citizens! from heights far greater and more bewildering than any which the pyramids of Egypt ever pierced, millions are looking down upon you. In every twinkling star, from invisible planets, from Heaven itself, the Fathers of the Republic, the immortal Lincoln, and every man who ever wrapped the drapery of his conch about him and laid down to pleasant dreams in the cause of Justice, are hoping that the memory of their lives and sacrifices will animate and reanimate the hearts and souls of all true lovers of this grand and glorious country, banded to us in trust for posterity.

Mark where she stands! Around her form we draw the sacred circle of our martyrs, heroes and defenders, and as sentinels we place the lofty statues of Sheridan, Sherman, Grant and Jackson. If any one a foot within that hallowed ground with intent to destroy the safety and happiness of a free people, upon their heads we launch the curse of the land of Webster, Jefferson, Lincoln and Washington.

And now, my fellow citizens, with the assurance of forgiveness for an old friend, I digress from the purely patriotic and sentimental, to the practical home lessons that should be drawn from this day, for the real ceremonies are empty and unmeaning unless the living can draw inspiration for the use of the present and future, and in dealing with the situation as it exists in Nevada, I shall neither be personal nor partisan. No person ever left Nevada without regret, and with a longing to return. The emigration must be arrested and immigration induced. The people of to-day must be the mound builders for the future. There is here all that mortal can desire to make life one uninterupted course of pleasure. There is no scollion of the Union which possesses such a delicious climate. It is far superior to any one-lung State, and some day will be recognized as the great sanitarium of the world, where "fountains of youth" will be found for every Ponce de Leon. Nevada can truly boast of more sunny days in one year than other more favored resorts enjoy in two or in three times that period. We have public schools and private seminaries and academies, and a University for higher education, that rival those of more pretentious States, and the diploma we have that, now, as in the past, there is less illiteracy in Nevada than in any State in the forty-four. For every school house we have a church where all can worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience. Of late there has been great improvement in Governmental affairs, the burdens of taxation lessened, and to be lighter, so that now the total revenue for State purposes is less than required for many counties in other States. The State owes no money lender a dollar, and when the Government of the United States repays the $400,000 due for debts incurred, there will be a dividend to be declared. The red tape will soon be out that keeps that money from us. Nevada beef cattle are the fat of the land. The sheep from this "wild and woolly" section produce a clip which commands the highest price. In no other State are the conditions so favorable for those who desire to engage in these industries. Nevada wheat won the first prize, and Nevada apples were literally covered with ribbons at the New Orleans Exposition. We know we can beat the world with our potatoes and honey.

The great need of the State to day is an organized effort all along the line, on the part of every citizen, not only to endeavor to develop its resources, but to induce others to come and aid in the good work. Every man who has a dollar ought to and does know, that if hidden under a tin can it will become rusty, and the eagle bird transformed into a buzzard. To make money, a wise person will judiciously keep it in circulation, and that he may not lose the whole dollar he ought to invest some portion or all of it: that he may increase his store for a rainy day, or keep the wolf from the door. Nevada must depend upon Nevadans to work out its salvation. There is no necessity of running after false gods.
The people do not even need to coax residents of California to become Congressmen or Senators from Nevada. They should resolutely determine what is for the best and carry their plans to a successful termination.

The free and unlimited coinage of silver will enable us to endure some of the evils we have, rather than fly to those we wot not of. The silver lining is on the cloud.
The population of the world is increasing far more rapidly than the currency. In a few years all the gold and silver that can be minted will be insufficient to meet the wants of the times. It will not then be so much a question of the free coinage of silver, as to find white metal, or resort to fiat money. In a year or two the victory will be secured and an army of prospectors will scour hills and mountains, abandoned mines will be reopened, the old Comstock lode itself, always a surprise, will be given a new lease, and thousands of persons and thousands of dollars press the button of a new era and a new prosperity. With all that has been taken from the bowels of her earth, Nevada is still the greatest undeveloped mineral region within or without the boundaries of the civilized world. But that State is best which combines mining and agriculture, and with the impetus that will be given to all other vocations by the restoration of silver to the place designed for it by the framers of the Constitution, every means should be taken to improve the present agricultural area, and to provide homes for a portion of that vast army marching westward to escape the impoverished and undesirable lands of blizzards, cyclones, drought, frost, plague, pestilence and famine, as well as those young and energetic rovers who cannot forever remain with the old folks. Properly cultivated every acre of land at present under water in this State would pay good interest on two hundred dollars. The land now supplied with water in Nevada is ample for twenty times the present number engaged in farming. The main trouble is that one man attempts to cultivate 200 acres, when twenty men should do the work, for twenty men with ten acres each would utilize the soil to its full extent, and produce therefrom forty times the requisite necessaries of life required for the single individual who undertakes to hold on to so unwisely a tract. It is such primitive methods that compels Nevada to import nine-tenths of all the flour, hams, bacon, lard, chickens, eggs, fruits and vegetables her people require, thus paying tribute to others when the money should be retained at home. The vast sums sent out of the State for the bare necessities would maintain a population greater than Virginia City. Must such a suicidal policy always prevail? Having improved what there is in sight, attention should be given to the storage of water, whereby millions of acres would not be subject to the caprice of the elements, but irrigated, thereby affording cheap land to all who desire to till the soil. The General Government should be induced to reliquish to the State its seventy millions of acres, now worthless to it, so that from the proceeds of the sales the State could devise plans and have the means to make the land valuable for and attractive to immigrants.

Walker Lake Reservation should be entirely abandoned to the whites, and given to those willing to work. Pyramid Lake Reservation should be cleft in twain, and that inviting field opened to the agriculturist. Another suggestion—the State needs more railroads and probably worse than all it should have relief from some of those already here—what a satire upon an Inter-State Commerce Commission that excludes Nevada from the benefits of the laws of the land, and locates the people out in the middle of the Pacific Ocean.

Let all then be incited by the enthusiasm of our vigorous and energetic young men; by the pride of our citizen soldiers; by the smiles of our rosy-cheeked girls and beautiful women; and, generally, by the intelligence, energy and generosity of our people to rally around the flag of Nevada and lift it, in thought and admiration, above all other State banners—decree that all who are not for us are against us, delve deeper and deeper if necessary for mineral wealth, go forth and obey the mandate of the Creator to subdue the earth and make it multiply, to the end that the view from the top of Mt. Davidson will be one of fields and gardens of useful cereals and lovely flowers in every valley, the hillsides and mountains an electric battery of industry, the sunlight of happiness and prosperity streaming over a flourishing and contented population, and the music brought to our ears more delightful than from the Eolian harp of old when insensate stones and trees clapped their hands for joy.

The Enterprise says: "The General was frequently interrupted by applause, and when he sat down he received a perfect ovation."
